

Choice Board

Each day this week, work on one of these activities for 30 minutes. If an activity takes more than one day, that's okay too. As you do the writing part of each of these activities, focus on your conventions. Be sure to have correct capitalization and punctuation. Remember: A sentence usually only contains one big idea. If you connect two big ideas together, you have to include a conjunction.

Example:

We've got a lot of snow lately. I made a huge snowman.

We've got a lot of snow lately, and I made a huge snowman.

Design and build a snow fort Go outside and build a snow fort. Write the directions for building the snow fort so that someone else could build it if they would like. Share the plan in Google Classroom for others to see, or write your plan on paper. Want to go further? *Calculate the area and perimeter of your snow fort. *Write a story that takes place in your fort. You could write the story in Google Docs, or on paper.	Design a Snack (Health) Create a healthy snack recipe and test it out. Improve it, then share it with your family. Write down the recipe and directions so that someone else could follow the recipe. Share your recipe in Google Classroom, or write your recipe on paper. Want to go further? *using information from a local grocery store's website, calculate how much the recipe would cost.	Design a dance routine Design a dance routine (think like a classroom Tik Tok), and test it out. Improve it and then share it with your family. Write down the directions (choreography) for your routine and share it in Google Classroom, or write your directions down on paper. Want to go further? *share your video on Flipgrid, or have your parent email a video to us to share.
Design an exercise routine Design an exercise routine. Improve it, and then share it with your family. Write down the directions for the routine so that someone else could follow it. Share the routine directions on Google Classroom for others to see, or write your plan on paper. Want to go further? *Share your pose in Flipgrid or have a parent video your pose and email it to us to share.	Design a Power Pose Design your own Power Pose. Share it with your family. Write down the directions for the pose so that someone else could do it. Describe how those poses make you feel more confident. Share the Power Pose directions in Google Classroom for others to see, or write the directions on paper. Want to go further? *Share your pose in Flipgrid or have a parent video your pose and email it to us to share.	Design a writing piece Write to self - Continue a story, or begin a new writing piece. You may choose to do this in Google Docs, or you may choose to do this on paper. If you
